BRITISH MARSHAL FORCES FOR HARD POLITICAL BATTLE

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—With Lloyd George's speech today and the issue of the Laborite manifesto, all the forces for a general election are marshalled and the public placed in possession of the party platforms.

Premier Bonar Law, who started today for Glasgow, traveling in an ordinary passenger train, was asked if he would carry out the recommendations of the Geddes and other economy committee during the coming session.

In general outline, however, the platform of all the parties are known. Perhaps most striking in this connection is the fact that Lloyd George, after some hesitation, joined his voice today with the leaders of other parties against Socialism and Labor.

The former Premier thus placed himself in line with Chamberlain and Churchill on this question, though in a somewhat less pronounced manner. He declares:

"Labor is a capitalist party and we must contest that policy." He confesses he has no election slogan, and this is characteristic of the object of retrenchment.

LABOR AND TRANSPORT

This reform probably will affect the Ministries of Labor and Transport, the duties of which may be relegated to other departments, with a considerable saving in the expense of administration.

This, however, can hardly be re-

HOPE OF GRABBING RUHR AGAIN BRIGHT IN FRANCE

BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—There are signs that the French people are beginning to make up their minds to the possibility of never being paid anything by Germany.

In the first place there is no indication that the British government will swear from the position taken in the Dalfour note. In the second place, the French believe that the terms of the American funding law, with the failure of the Parliamentary mission and Secretary Hoover's recent speech, give them a strong argument.

The former Premier thus placed himself in line with Chamberlain and Churchill on this question, though in a somewhat less pronounced manner. He declares:

"Labor is a capitalist party and we must contest that policy." He confesses he has no election slogan, and this is characteristic of the object of retrenchment.

French confidence in either the ability or the possibility of another war debt conference seems to be rapidly vanishing. It is being supplemented by the quite different idea that because France's allies are financially incapable of meeting its debts, and as Germany has preferred bankruptcy to an armed effort to pay war reparations, France's only remaining recourse is to seek political compensation by consolidating the Rhine land occupation and by occupying the Ruhr district.

Occupation of the Ruhr, it is surmised, might enable France to force a further fall in the price of French and German steel industries under French control. Other profitable fusions might also be attempted.

Thus France, failing to gain financial reparations, would obtain political compensation by occupying the Ruhr district.

French finances are still bad, with the 1922 budget estimates showing a big deficit, and with the franc lower in the last few days than it had been before in a year.

But political pressure is stronger than it has been in a year, and the political situation is more favorable to France.

IRELAND WINNER AT LAST IN CENTURIES-OLD FIGHT

New Constitution Passes Dublin Dail and British Have But to Go Through Set Form

INT CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—The new Irish constitution passed its third and final reading in the Dail Eireann today. Deputy John Milroy described the document as the greatest triumph for Ireland since the Battle of Kinsale. It was a monument, he added, to the two great men who had passed away (Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith,) whose names would be blessed by future generations of Irishmen.

Mr. Milroy said he did not wish to suggest that the British government would jeopardize a bill won with so much labor and sacrifice, but that the Dail must look beyond to their fellow-countrymen in Northern Ireland as the next great step that would have to be considered.

HOPES FOR ULSTER

We hope the Anglo-Irish treaty and the constitution would bring the nationalists realize that their interests are those of Tipperary, Cork and Dublin.

To these people a message of good will and reconciliation should go out from the National Assembly. Several other Deputies spoke, several of them supported the motion of Kevin O'Higgins, Minister of Home Affairs, for the third reading of the bill. After some verbal amendments to the bill, the motion of passage was carried.

CONSTITUTION SUMMARY

A summary of the outstanding articles of the constitution follows:

Article I. The Irish Free State is a coequal member of the community of nations, and the British government with its colonies.

Art. II. All the powers of the government and all authority, legislative, executive and judicial, are derived from the people, and the same shall be exercised in the Irish Free State through organizations established by or under, and in accord with, this constitution.

Art. III. Citizens of the state shall be all those who are qualified in Ireland at the time the constitution comes into operation, who were born in Ireland, or either of whose parents was born in Ireland, or who have been born in the Free State for seven years.

Art. IV. The national language will be the Irish language, but English will be equally recognized as the official language.

Art. V. Protection of persons by a process similar to a habeas corpus will.

HOME A CASTLE

Art. VI. Declares dwellings inviolable; these cannot be forcibly entered except in accordance with the law.

Construction was started at the Schaeffer plant at Chatsworth, California, and was completed at the Havre works.

The British were intensely interested in the tests of the plane, but the main purpose was to demonstrate the strictest secrecy. The French government will accept the ship after all tests prove successful.

French air officers say that a dozen squadrons of these planes would insure world air supremacy to France.

WOMAN BREAKS DOWN AT TRIAL

Philadelphia Murder Trial
Marked by Sensations

Clothes of Slain Girl Are Shown in Court

Asserted Murderess Weeps
Almost Continuously

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—The bloodstained garments that clothed "Jerry" Beckits when the bullet released by her employer's wife, Mrs. Catherine Rosier, penetrated the young stenographer's abdomen and ended her life appeared in court today. Mrs. Rosier buried her fan in her hands to avoid sight of them.

"Sit down," shouted court attendants to the horrid hordes of spectators, pulled to their feet in their eagerness to catch a glimpse of the gruesome evidence.

The small, linsey garments blouse with sister red stains, and the black silk dress worn by the slain girl when she met her death, were hung over the rail of the witness stand where they remained most of the day, while witnesses traced the flight of the bullet through her body.

They were first displayed while Detective Tison occupied the stand. He identified them as those he had seen Mrs. Beckits wearing on January 21. As he talked, holding the crumpled clothing in his hands, Mrs. Rosier shivered and drew her fur coat close around her shoulder.

FAITH LOST

Testimony of this witness revealed the utter loss of faith in Oscar Rosier that had prompted Mrs. Rosier to kill. Detective Tison told of a conversation with the defendant at the station. There Mrs. Rosier bitterly denounced Oscar Rosier. Facing the floor, she cried: "He killed his first wife; that is, she died of a broken heart, from his treatment of her."

Another detective asked her, "Did he tell you he would marry him?"

Mrs. Rosier replied: "Yes, he did."

"He killed his first wife; that is, she died of a broken heart, from his treatment of her."

Another detective asked her,

"Did he tell you he would marry him?"

Mrs. Rosier replied:

"I, being only woman of a different temperament, thought I would be able to satisfy his desires. I even had a child by him—I have a baby 3 months old—but I found that the woman he had to be able to satisfy him?"

Again Mrs. Rosier wept.

After Detectives Tison and Foy, who also visited the office where Mildred Beckits and Oscar Rosier worked, had testified to the presence of a small spot "about the size of a quarter," on the wall of the office, Dist.-Atty. Maurice Speizer handed a piece of wall paper to another detective, James McElroy. He said that it was that part on which the spot had appeared and said he had cut it from the wall.

SPOT ANALYZED

Dr. John Kolmer, University of Pennsylvania medical school, then declared he had analyzed the spot and found it human blood. By this time the courtroom with howls to prove that Mildred Beckits was shot at her typewriting desk and then crawled to the couch on which she lay dead.

The sensational-hungry crowd that choked the courtroom was rewarded with the thrill they sought during the afternoon session. Just as the first witness called stepped to the stand, the girl's voice shrieked from the rear: "Let God be merciful. Let God be judge."

The room was filled with uproar while the young woman was being affected. She gave her name as "Sweet Marie" Pettijohn in the outer corridor, where she remained for some time.

The girl, who was the only one of the three who had not completed her course, said:

"I am a good girl. I have been a good girl."

The commonwealth had not completed its case when court adjourned today.

STATE SUPPORT FOR TRUSTEES PROPOSED

MEASURES ON PLAYGROUND LIABILITY WILL BE INTRODUCED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 25.—Legislation seeking to clarify the laws relative to the liability of school trustees for accidents occurring to students on school grounds and providing legal assistance to trustees in case of attack would be a portion of the legislative program to be backed by the State Department of Education at its meeting of the Board of Regents, W. C. Wood, Superintendent of Public Instruction, announced here today.

Wood's announcement follows an opinion given by Atty. Gen. U. S. Webb, who also go to the effect that school trustees are personally liable for accidents resulting to school children when such accidents were the result of negligence or wantonness of the trustees. The superintendent declared he did not feel the trustees were liable to any great extent, but would seek such a measure as would limit responsibility.

Another amendment to the school laws will be sought, Wood said, to provide for the easier consolidation of school districts, which would accord to the people of every high school district the privilege of determining whether the schools of the elementary and high schools should be administered by one board. Clarification, generally on laws relating to the organization of outside territory to school districts, will be sought, he said.

Thorough registration of all minor children every three years would be another amendment at the present time, he said. Another amendment sought, said Wood.

We were greatly interested at Niagara by the new electric power development upon the Canadian side. It represents far the greatest thing in this line that has ever been done, and is an example of practical socialism, as it is financed by a number of municipalities with public money. As it is costing a good deal more than we expected, but I expect they will resume their normal color when the results begin to show, for they expect to get about 600,000 kilowatts to run big factories of all sorts. It should be a national asset. The idea was to tap the river above the falls, and to make a canal 200 feet deep, until the twenty-foot rush of water hits the turbines, so that there is no waste of electric force. They have had smaller plants running both on the American and on the Canadian side, so there is no question as to the feasibility.

AMAZED BY NIAGARA

Our whole party put on waterproofs and made our way down a steep path and a slight duckboard passage which suddenly emerges under the falls which roar and spout in front and on which still sits our boat. The color, strength and impression of might never have been described and never will be described. One feels stunned amid the elemental power of the falls as descending from above, and wild, mad tumult is the result, which is intensified by the terrible noise.

To look upward from the platform and see the sun shine dimly through the great arch of water above, as though it were a window of the world. Wonderful indeed.

They have stretched a wire rope, or several, over the broad expanse of the Whirlpool, and they run a small car across, with passengers, across, alighting right foot to toe our whole family in this small box suspended hundreds of feet above that dreadful place. However, they made the double transit in all comfort. It looks a frail thing, however, and I only pray that it may not break.

This institution has established an enviable record in the volume of sound and profitable business handled. An investigation will disclose the standard of value behind the stock issue.

With the safe high grade 8% investments difficult to obtain, we believe the wise investor will give especial attention to the strong points of the Union Mortgage Company's stock issue which are, the rapid turnover of capital; the soundness of the securities handled and the carefulness and expensiveness of its management, which an investigation will prove.

Many leading Los Angeles business men have attested their belief in the Union Mortgage Company's future by becoming stockholders in the company. Many investors have doubled, tripled and quadrupled their original subscriptions. Only a small portion of this entire issue remains open for subscription.

SANTA MONICA

IDEA AND EMPIRE

An old legend recites that two Spanish soldiers exploring the bay region discovered springs—probably in Santa Monica Canyon—where they found rest and refreshment from cool waters. In gratitude they named the place after Saint Monica.

The incident is typical of the place which Santa Monica occupies in the life and thought of the people of Los Angeles and the Southwest today and which it will occupy in the thought of the nation henceforth.

The name Santa Monica came to be applied to a range of mountains, a great bay, a large wooded canyon and the Palisades. It thus covered a small empire of great scenic beauty and climatic charm.

In 1875 a city was laid out on top of the Palisades and given the name already applied to the mountains and bay.

The name Santa Monica, therefore, does not indicate merely a city, but an idea and an empire.

The value of this empire is based on its topography, scenic beauty, great bay, miles of wide beach sands and its climate. That value is greatly multiplied by its geographical relation to the metropolis. The high class homebuilding of Los Angeles is westward. Already the last links between the center of the city and the Palisades have been opened for settlement. Los Angeles now includes three miles of beach front. Thus Santa Monica is already the front door of Los Angeles.

Besides being the most beautiful and attractive it is also the nearest beach to the center of the city and the majority of its people. It naturally has many more boulevards and car lines than any other beach.

It is a fundamental part in the economy of the metropolis. San Pedro means harbor. Los Angeles means business. Hollywood means movies. Santa Monica means home, recreation, refreshment, retreat, resort, society, play, education, uplift, inspiration, tourist hotels, conventions, yachting and sports. The big hotels and the breakwater for yachting have yet to be built, but they must naturally and surely come.

With the rare combination of things as they are Santa Monica's destiny is practically as certain as if already fully consummated. Santa Monica's future is exactly as much established as is the future of the metropolis itself.

Forty-seven years old and founded on such fundamental facts, Santa Monica is thoroughly established, and is one of the principal foundation stones of the Los Angeles of the years from now on.

Population and values are increasing at a very great rate; and since the story of Santa Monica will continue to be told to the world, as it is now being told, the flood will continue to increase constantly. Our only trouble will be to keep up in preparation to receive it. We need more big men and women with big ideas and great ability and resources to help us keep ahead of the flood and to prepare this great empire in a way that will do justice to it and to the hundreds of thousands of people who will seek its rich offerings.

Greater Santa Monica Club invites you. For information come to Santa Monica or address

INQUIRIES IN GERMANY ILL OMENS

Missions of Experts Believed Fatal Step by Berlin Newspapers

100 CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—The first days of November, which once brought revolution to Germany, again may prove a fatal section of the calendar for the republic, in the opinion of newspaper commentators discussing today the simultaneous announcements that Germany has invited foreign financial experts to come to the capital to stabilize the mark and that the reparations commission also is coming to Berlin.

The coincidence of the two latest developments in the country's financial situation, say the Berlin Courier, makes it look like the authorities on both sides were "trying to beat each other to it" on some definite decision. The new government, and the government's invitation to the international experts is at least a clever political move, since the affairs to be dealt with are such as the foreign countries have had no hand in any way. The fact that representatives of outside powers have been asked to look over conditions for themselves, the journal adds, will make it difficult for Germany later to oppose financial supervision.

The Roerling Zeitung thinks "it rings like a bad joke to hear that at the very moment when the mark has driven German finance to the wall, the reparations commission, under the initiative of M. Barthou (the French chairman of the commission), has turned its head over the question of how much it will cost a couple more millions of paper out of the German people through new taxes."

The Lokal Anzeiger believes the arrival of the foreign experts to Germany will retard rather than expedite an improvement in the mark.

PSEUDOFILM FOLKS FORGOT TO PAY BILLS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 25.—A warrant charging a man representing himself to be Bill Marshall, actor, with defrauding a restaurant keeper, was issued here today. The man, accompanied by several women posing as actresses, arrived here nearly two weeks ago, and the intent of his stay was to open a studio here.

Arrangements were made with a restaurant man to furnish meals upon a weekly payment plan. When the bill became due none of the pseudofilm performers could be found.

Mr. Moore
under the

and the chancel-impressed as the Water and Power Act.

Mr. Mathews, special counsel for the Board of Public Service Commissioners, issued a statement yesterday cautioning the voters against confusing Charter Amendment No. 1A and State Proposition No. 19, to be voted on at the coming general election.

"Both concern water,
and the numbers are almost identical, there may be confusion in the minds of some voters," Mathews said. "Neither measure has anything to do with the other."

The city proposition calls for the issuance of a bond issue for $3,000,000, to be expended for improvements to the municipal water system, including new reservoirs and water mains.

The State proposition would authorize the issuance of State bonds, not to exceed $500,000,000, for the development of the water and power resources of California and power acts.

Mr. Mathews called attention to the report of the Municipal League, which recommended the passage of the city water bonds.

No recommendation was given regard to the State measure.

The league contented itself with presenting the arguments on both sides of the question.

Mr. Mathews also called attention to the fact that the interest and sinking fund on the city water bond issue will be paid out of revenue, so that its passage will not increase taxes.

A man who washed his hands in the Arroyo Seco was fined $5 and costs. He could have had a full bath at a high-priced hotel for less money or might have swum in the ocean at a fraction of the price. But to have one's fins in the Arroyo Seco is not only a crime, but a feat. That is why it carries the name. When washing the hands becomes a feat, no wonder the law steps in.

TAKING ON PLEASURE

The life of the average American business man is getting fatter. The ordinary citizen weighs nine pounds more than he did 100 years ago. That doesn't seem much of a gain for a century, but it means quite a lot when it is spread over the whole country. In 8000 towns the casual American capitalist will be so heavy that he will have to be moved with a truck. Even our women are running to flesh.

BABY FARMING

A baby parked last week at Santa Monica was never called for by the mother. The wife is a early-haired girl less than a month old and already more than twenty families have sought to adopt the stranger. It is said that babies are not always welcome, but it doesn't seem a bit difficult to find a home for them. At most of the orphanages there is a waiting list of proxy mothers who want to catch a baby when it is right young. Seems as if a lot of folks would rather house a stranger than take chances on one of their own.

THE SMOKELESS CITY

The Wilmer Glenn Voliva, dictator of religion and morals in Zion City, is asking the women of his community to horsewhip any man seen smoking on the streets of the city. The ozone of Zion is to be kept pure and free from all contamination. The offending and acrimonious aroma of burning tobacco will not be permitted on the highways of the city of the elect. But the trouble seems to be to find horsewhips enough to carry out the mandate of the boss. The first lady who wanted to punish a gent with a torch found that Henry Ford does not equip his buggies with horsewhips. She had to use a monkey wrench, which everybody knows is not a woman's weapon. If in a general way the ladies are going to beat up all smokers with monkey wrenches this is going to be an unhappy world. It may be a smokeless one, but will it be worth while?

LUGHING GAS

The professor says that phenylisocyanide gas is a great appetizer. It has a pungent odor that makes a man hungry. Given a few whiffs of this laboratory product and a guy will nibble at the second table of a goat. It sounds as if it ought to be fatal, but instead it appears to be stimulating. Anyhow, it inspires hunger. It would make a fine first course at a banquet. Scientists are finding various gases that have remarkable effects upon the human mind and body. It is possible to turn on one jet for a jag and another for a mere appetizer. If the wealthy host has his house properly piped he can give his guests all the sensations there are. The day may come when a guest can drop a quarter in the meter and get a bead that would make the Eighteenth Amendment look like a scrap of paper. Murder in the movies can be accomplished by a blowpipe full of toxidormin silently administered through the keyhole. Look out for the gas man.

MONKEY BUSINESS

The former Kaiser is said to have had Dr. Serge Voronoff on the phone. Wants to know what it will cost to make a monkey of him. If the great Russian surgeon has a few alert and vigorous chimpanzees on hand the retired monarch might be inclined to undergo a transplantation. He indicates his willingness to be satisfied with a goat. Thinks he has been a goat long enough as it is. Now he feels that the Hohenzollern strain might be improved by a dash of orang-outang. An infusion of gorilla might lend strength to a waning house.

The demands of modern surgery have placed a premium on the chimpanzee. These animals are now quoted at $400 per each at wholesale. This is f.o.b. Mozambique. At Doorn the ape would be worth much more. If Dr. Voronoff came for the operation it would cost the former Kaiser a lot of money. But what does he care for dough? He has enough of it to make a monkey of himself three or four times over.

They are organizing a company in Europe to control the world's supply of chimpanzees. There will be expeditions on a large scale to the lands where these animals do most thrive. They will be captured, but well cared for. Efforts will be made to propagate them. We may yet see the day of the chimpanzee farm and the jest about the monkey ranch will be vitalized. Structurally and mentally, the chimpanzee is said to more closely resemble man than any other creature. It is estimated by the Darwinists that many of our proudest families would find a chimpanzee in their family tree if they were able to peer far enough. Ask Dr. Voronoff. Now they are going back to grandpa.

WHEN CLEMENCEAU COMES
Clemenceau is expressing in French high official circles over the contemplated visit to the United States of Georges Clemenceau, the old Tiger, the great War Minister who held, like Grant, that the only terms acceptable from the enemy were unconditional surrender.

They say Clemenceau is not diplomatic that he is too tempestuous, that he is indiscreet, that he will say things which will offend the American people and—what seems to the French to be the most important of all—that he has not been invited to visit us.

Even Marshal Foch has serious misgivings. He said in a recent interview that Clemenceau would likely tell us that "You are very naughty. You haven't ratified the Treaty of Versailles. You haven't ratified that other treaty by which your President pledged his support to France in case of another German attack." The great marshal feared that the American public would resent being scolded; that it would not be safe to tell them they had broken faith. He feared, in short, that the American people were too proud and too sensitive to accept such strictures in a friendly spirit.

One of the French journals said that "Influential people" in this country had advised against Clemenceau coming at this time; that they feared he would awaken resentment and inaugurate an era of ill-will of the New York Times he said:

"I have not been asked by either Republicans or Democrats to go. In fact, I am so impolite as to go without being asked. Down in my little house in Vendee, all alone, I made the decision to go to America and try to explain the French point of view and to try to get America to help bring peace to Europe. If I can succeed I shall have done a good thing. If I fail I shall have done my duty in trying. . . . I shall speak independently of every consideration except doing good all round."

And Clemenceau will make no mistake in making his appeal direct to the American people. If he were more discreet we should love him less; for we should suspect him of concealing something that we might like to see. He won the right by the indomitable courage he displayed during the darkest days of the war to speak in his own right to any Allied people.

Americans, as a whole, are not so supersensitive as Marshal Foch and some "Influential persons" believe us to be. We don't mind being scolded if the speaker is sincere, if he is one in whom we have confidence. We will take from Clemenceau, without turning a hair, what we should probably mob some fellow German war lord for uttering.

If the tempestuous old Tiger desires to hunt in the American jungle, let him come; and we will promise to do our best to give him "good hunting." He can say to us what he thinks in his heart; and we will agree beforehand to receive it in good part.

Perhaps there has been too much pussy-footing by those who have come to us on official missions since the war. Too many have followed the advice given by William I of Germany to his grandson, the Kaiser, on the latter's departure for a visit to the Russian court: "If you would be well received, praise much and criticize little, or not at all."

The people as a whole would like to know first-hand what Clemenceau thinks about us; and we shall not ruffle if some of his opinions are not favorable. We permit those whom we like to tell us of our faults. A little straight talk will be a relief from so much discreet flattery. We like not those who say one thing of us on the eastern border of the Atlantic and another on the western.

Let the old Tiger come with claws sharpened and wearing no muzzle; and not turn back until he has reached Los Angeles and taken a dip in the waters of the Pacific. When he arrives we shall say to him, "Lay on Macduff." He will not find us crying, "Hold, enough!" however tempestuously he barks on us.

It isn't what is said, but the spirit in which it is uttered, that counts. And as far as the League of Nations is concerned, he will find that a majority of the American people, as well as a majority in the Senate, believed that it should have been ratified, with moderate reservations.

Clemenceau clicks no borrowed spurs. He will speak for Clemenceau alone, which he can freely do because his visit has no political significance. He can be assured of a welcome of such volume that it will remind him of a salvo of French cannon.

GERMANY PREPARES
More Germans are attending the universities today than in 1914. Whereas approximately 82,000 are registered today, only 60,000 were then. This notwithstanding the great financial difficulties encountered by the students and the greater relative indigence of the learned men of Germany today.

The Germans are looking ahead. They are down and out now, but they feel in their hearts that the time will again come when they will be among the big powers of the world. They are training leaders for this future Germany.

This year 17,714 of these students are studying political science, whereas only 5326 were in 1914. Preparing to be future Presidents? Not so as you can notice it. University students of Germany are the most fervid of monarchists.

The number of technical students has doubled since the war, while those of theology and philosophy have fallen. A firm foundation and not merely a theoretical one is being built for the future Germany.

Today Germany has no great political leaders. She is near bankruptcy. Her people, except for one or two great industrial magnates, are impoverished. She has a burdening debt the size of which is almost inconceivable. On the other hand, Germany has not been invaded. Her lands and industries are intact. And her people are working industriously. The population is increasing at a tremendous rate—a great military, if not an economic, advantage.

Germany's file, for the most part, it is evident, are economic. And these time and time again, will remedy. Germany and other participants in the World War must pay in poverty and distress for the waste of that war. This is the law of action and reaction. Economists cannot get around it.

THE GRAND PASSION

Life is just one durned vibration after another. Sound and light are but a series of waves or vibrations impinging upon one another. Now Prof. Walter Eaton Hughes, dean of esoterics, declares that the tender passion is a concert of vibrations. When people are in love they are merely tuned into each other's wave length.

It is just like a radio outfit.

In the spring the call goes forth, searching-for the monkey ranch will be vitalized.

Germany's file, for the most part, it is evident, are economic. And these time and time again, will remedy. Germany and other participants in the World War must pay in poverty and distress for the waste of that war. This is the law of action and reaction. Economists cannot get around

it.

It beats gently upon the air. The heart throws out its antennae—its feelers.

Reunion of the Treaty Makers

It. The Germans seemingly recognize this fact and, while lying in bed ill, are preparing themselves mentally for fray when time has cured their silents.

PRACTICAL PEACE MOVEMENT

In November, 1919, the Republican administration at Washington took the first practical step in history in the cause of universal peace. It called a conference of the leading world powers which lasted twelve weeks. Its chief object, of course, was reduction of armaments.

It accomplished, however, far more than this. Within that short period it formulated and signed eight international treaties, agreed to ten resolutions affecting world affairs and made official record of ten declarations of national policy.

To seven of these treaties the United States was a party. The one to which she was not a party, but which she was mainly instrumental in bringing about, was that between China and Japan regarding Shantung.

By this prompt action the Republican administration removed many fruitful sources of possible conflicts.

Unless some agreement were reached the Shantung issue was sure to develop into armed conflict between China and Japan which would as surely involve other nations.

Many nations were looking to the opportunity of exploiting China.

The Treaty of Versailles had arbitrarily given to certain nations monopolistic mandates to Pacific Islands and territories which operated in the interest of American interests.

Now, if you subtract these symptoms from a fit of anger, it would be difficult to say how much of a fit would remain. They are the essential parts of that state of mind and body.

In addition, anger breeds the brain with blood. If the arteries are brittle, as they are in old age (and the individual is as old as his arteries) the rise in arterial tension may result in the rupture of a blood vessel. The subsequent hemorrhage may bring on an attack of apoplexy and even death. In other words, anger hastens the destruction of the arteries.

So it is probable that serenity more than any other factor is responsible for longevity.

And more than one patriarch, who was nearing or has passed the century mark, when asked to point out the road to long life, has not, as was expected, attributed his health to the abstinence from this, and the other thing we are all familiar with, but with a twinkle in his eye has chirped: "Son, my life was one grand laugh after another. A hearty laugh a day keeps the doctor away. A jovial disposition is the best assurance for long life.

So, a prime requisite to health, wealth and happiness is an even temper; it is one of the greatest preventives of insomnia, indigestion and nervous prostration.

If you would live to a ripe old age FOR-GET YOUR GRIEVANCES.

RIPPLING RHYMES*CONTENTED WORKMAN

"I like the work I'm doing," said Charles Augustus Gates. "I tell the year round glibly what's what, and get along.

Someday, when the job's over, I'll have nothing to do, and I'll be a contented workman.

So, I'll be a contented workman.

Negotiations for the game were

This considered several eastern teams.

"Penn State was invited to play a least emphasis placed on it as a championship game, the better.

Duke Becomes King in Scoring Line

The young man shown above is Duke Morrison, star fullback of the University of California football team. So far this season Morrison has brought in sixty-nine points, having carried the ball over for ten touchdowns and kicked nine goals. By this performance he lays claim to the national football-scoring honors of the season. Whether or not he will increase the record in the game with the University of Southern California at Pasadena next Saturday remains to be seen.

QUAKERS ARE ALL PEPPED UP

Whittier's Rejuvenated Team Ready for Tigers

Conference Grid Tilt Set for Tomorrow

Thundering Thousand in a Confident Mood

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE
WHITTIER, Oct. 25.—All pepped up to win their third straight victory over the Occidental College football eleven. Whittier's rejuvenated gridiron heroes had their last hard workout tonight in preparation of the big conference battle at Patterson Field, Occidental College, on Friday afternoon.

With both Suggett and Thompson back on the eligible list and playing in their old-time sensational form the Thundering Thousand of Quakertown expect to baffle the Trojans.

Their big gun, however, is the hand-hitter a thorough whipping. They expect to find the Tigers overconfident as a result of their victory over the strong S.B.U.C. squad last week.

HARD HIT
While Whittier has been hard hit by graduation, injuries and transfers, the Quakers are a whole lot stronger than they were a week ago. On that occasion they were overconfident and were without the services of Thompson, whose work in the backfield is every bit as valuable as that of Suggett, although not as spectacular.

The injuries that have cut down the Tiger eleven and deprived them of the services of both quarterbacks, the fullback and a good tackle will do much to weaken Pipkin outfit, reducing his strength though still strong against the Cubes. Coach Parry believes that Suggett's wide runs and Thompson's shifty off tackle dashes will be sufficient to beat the Tigers and the Quakers point to their dominant victory over the San Jose Teachers last Saturday to prove that they are very fit on a par with Occidental even when Suggett is not playing.

PLAY OPENING ROUND IN BOWLING LEAGUE

Two matches of the opening round of the Major Bowling League were played at the Angelus Bowling Academy Tuesday night, with a good crowd of fans looking on. In the feature match the Angels, A. C. Jimmy Lummel, Joe O'Neil, 2,543 to 2,724, Fred Mitchell was the feature, with an individual score of 659 for three games.

In the other match, which was a closely contested one, the Walker team, 2,541 to 2,594, was the feature. The Angels, A. C. Jimmy Lummel, Joe O'Neil, 2,543 to 2,724, Fred Mitchell was the feature, with an individual score of 659 for three games.

Fred H. Teeple, for a number of years secretary of the L. A. Club, has resigned in order to add new officers and other matters will be adjusted.

MAILS IS RELEASED
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

GLOUCESTER (Mass.) Oct. 25.—Walter Mails, the big southpaw who helped the Indians win the American League pennant and the world's championship in 1920, will not appear with the Indians next season, according to an announcement here today by E. S. Barnard, president of the Cleveland American team. Barnard told Mails to have any Pacific Coast League team interested in securing him for next season to write Barnard.

THE result brought the Bluejackets, defending holder of the Halifax cup, on even terms with the American challenger. Each has a "win" toward the two necessary for possession. Their first race, while mooted still, stands no contest. The deciding race is scheduled for tomorrow.

AVOIDS CLASH
From the start, in which collision between the racing schooners was avoided only by the willingness of Capt. Clayton Morrissey of the Ford, to waive the rules of the race, see which gave him the right of way over the Bluejackets' incoming encroachment, to the last leg, in which a man at the masthead of the big Lunenberg was injured, it was a race of thrills.

Edward Hiltz, one of the crack members of the Bluejackets crew, will race no more in this series. Snared in a staysail halyard high in the air, he hung suspended by the left leg for several minutes after a tack on the beat home, until he had to drop into the staysail when went winging in the air, useless for the rest of the race. Hiltz was taken to a hospital.

LOT OF HUSTLING
The men of the Ford had a lot of hustling to do when after they got under way for the start they discovered that the bolt ropes on the foremast were partly severed in three places. When they got to the weakened Leach scalloped and spilled the wind but with spun yarn and nails, lacking sail needles and thread, the fishermen strengthened the edge and made a good job of it. Gloucester was the winner, but the Bluejackets' skipper indicated that the sail had been cut but Capt. Morrissey himself indicated that he placed no stock in it.

The official times for start, second and third were: four marks, 11:00:59; 11:46:14; 2:12:17; 3:07:10; 3:58:09; 4:45:47; Henry Ford: 11:00:59; 11:46:58; 2:10:07; 3:11:44; 4:40:31; 5:05:04.

Scrap Opening Conference
Game of Season

Coach Kerr's Lads Doped to Bring Home Bacon

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 26.—Coach Andrew Kerr and Trainer Wallace Denny, with twenty-seven Stanford footballers, left Palo Alto this afternoon for Corvallis, Or., to engage with the "fighting Aggies" in the first conference game of the Stanford season. Though the Cardinals have tendered their resignation to the Pacific Coast conference, there has been no acceptance by that organization, and as there can be none until the body of representative meets in October, the Stanfordites must be considered as staying through the regular conference schedule. Coach Thorhnell decided against the trip, and he probably will be found somewhere in Los Angeles next Saturday.

Although the team under Coach Butherford, lost to the University of Washington last week, the Stanford-O.A.C. games is down as anybody's game. The Cardinals have developed a strong defense to date, so far there is little in the way of scoring power, with the exception of that shown by Fullback Murray Cuddeback.

The eminently respectable James Carlisle Smith is third baseman of the Vernon club. Lorens had always regarded Smith as a man of exemplary habits. Had he been deceived? Could it be that J. Carlisle after all was leading a double life, rounding round and looking upon the red eye? He almost failed to learn the awful truth, but told the kid to shoot.

"Every night you'll find him up there at the public library," said the newsie.

Such proved to be the case. Smith is studying to be an electrical engineer, and practically every night on the road he busied himself reading works on this subject. As a result he gave the public library a strong play in every city of the circuit.

Which reminds me of a few years ago when I was making a tour of the various Coast League training camps. Art Krueger was that spring with Portland. For some reason, now forgotten, I particularly wanted to see Krueger and was directed to his room in the hotel. Naturally expected to find him with a few players for guests trying to fill a bush or straight. Instead, I found him buried in Kipling. He had enough Kipling works to form a circulating library.

And speaking of Krueger reminds me some more. Art was the best judge of a fly ball ever in this circuit until the advent of Chester Chadbourne, who, I believe, succeeded him on the Portland club. Chad probably has become Krueger's equal in studying the batters and planting himself accordingly.

Chadbourne has been in the game a long time, and yet his legs seem as good as ever.

"Can't understand it," remarked Sam Grant, who was sitting with Dad Meek and others during a recent game.

"It's because he is such a good ball player that he doesn't have to use his legs much," explained Meek. "Just watch him a couple of innings."

In the next two innings there were four fly balls hit to center. Chadbourne had judged the batter to such a nicely that he didn't run more than fifteen feet after any of the four.

SIKI GIVES CHALLENGE ICY STARE

Manager Says Carpenter Will Have to Get in Line and Wait His Turn

(BY CARL AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)

PARIS, Oct. 25.—Batting Siki, conqueror of Georges Carpenter, received the latter's challenge for return match with undisturbed calm. M. Helle, his manager, fully informed the French idol that he would have to get in line and take his turn. Helle considers that Siki would have nothing to gain by meeting Carpenter. The West's management plans are for Siki's match against Joe Beckett, the English heavyweight, on December 7. If successful in his bout with Beckett, he will go to America.

"Dolan, however, particularly good now," he said.

Siki himself displays no special desire to undertake the American trip. He prefers to fight in Europe. Some unpleasant experience with Americans led him to this decision. The Americans left the cafe as soon as Siki entered.

Coffey Here for Tilt With Jimmy Sacco

Joe Coffey, the sensational lightweight boxer, arrived in the city yesterday and immediately began tuning up for his scrap with Jimmy Sacco in the main event at the American Legion Hollywood arena tomorrow night. Coffey has been going great guns since his entry into the West, but is expected to be slowed considerably when he comes off with Coffey.

Spec Woods and Billy Ketchell, two of the best 145-pounders ever seen in action at Hollywood, are slated to appear in the semi-main event. Eddie Calvert and Jim Mohr, regular 132-pounders, will trade punches in the special event.

A splendid supporting bill has been arranged by Matchmaker Frank Crotty, Frank Farrell, Ray Lee, Pete Herman, Billy Maxwell, Jack Welch, Tommy Fox va. Sailor Edding.

SARAZEN IS LUCKY IN AUTO ACCIDENT

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Gene Sarazen, American open golf champion, had a narrow escape from serious injury last night when he made an unusual effort to avoid running down Lake Robinson, a local resident of White Plains. Sarazen, who was discharged from the hospital nine days ago after a ruptured quick recovery from appendicitis, ran his car onto the sidewalk in trying to avoid Robinson, who was knocked down and suffered a fractured skull and several broken ribs. Sarazen was paroled last night after eye-witnesses had described the accident as unavoidable.

The golfer was uninjured although his machine was damaged slightly.

GOODYEAR

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Bennie Freedman, Chicago lightweight, tonight was matched to meet Dave Baker, Boston November 6, and Morris Schlaifer in Omaha November 14.

Modern baseball players may not be paragons, but they cause their managers much less worry on the road than did those of some years ago.

However, even now, there is an occasional Apache on a club who believes rules were made to be broken, who doesn't think that the only bright lights intended to be enjoyed are hung on Christmas trees once a year and who, if sufficiently tempted, will lay up a few gills of firewater in any village where he may bejourning for the week.

Managers receive much volunteered information regarding the lives and habits of their players, some reliable and partly the other kind. Hence the surprise of Howard Lorens, secretary of the Vernon club, during the last trip to Portland when a newsboy called him aside and whispered: "Say, if you want to know where to find that thirty basemen of yours about 11 o'clock every night I will tip you off."

The eminently respectable James Carlisle Smith is third baseman of the Vernon club. Lorens had always regarded Smith as a man of exemplary habits. Had he been deceived? Could it be that J. Carlisle after all was leading a double life, rounding round and looking upon the red eye? He almost failed to learn the awful truth, but told the kid to shoot.

OLD HATCHET TO BE DUG UP

Princeton Takes on Chicago Next Saturday

Middle-West Football is Annoying East

Coach Stagg's Men Are in Excellent Shape

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

ANN ARBOR (Mich.), Oct. 26.—Princeton and Chicago will dig up the hatchet next Saturday and renew the ancient East-vs.-West football feud at Stagg Field in a game which is exciting intense interest among followers of the sport. Football, as dished out in the Middle West, has been quite annoying to the easterners of late. Iowa's victory over Illinois two weeks ago, and the Hawkeyes' famous display of rivalry to fever heat, and if Coach Stagg's men humble the Princeton eleven again this season as they did the western footballers, it will be admitted that Iowa and comfortable place in the sun.

DRUG PURDUE

The Maroons took drubs last week. Purdue being drubbed largely through the efforts of second-string men, while the varsity regulars showed things from the bench. Stagg is prepared to send his team in to battle the Tigers in the best of condition, and was unwilling to take any chances on injuries. Princeton exhibited considerable strength overwhelming Maryland, and is expected to make things interesting for the Chicagoans.

The rest of the Middle Western footballers are in the sun, but the game in the way of excitement until Illinois all but defeated the mighty Iowa squad last Saturday. After that, the Maroons won two weeks ago, Illinois was not considered a dangerous team, but from the way they played Saturday it looks as though the Maroon men may furnish some surprises in competition for the Michigan machine when the teams collide here Saturday.

BEEF BONES

Two defeat Ohio State last week at a terrific price, Roby, half, and Van der Voort guard, being the chief sacrifices eleven for the rest of the Maroon eleven. The Maroons are expected to be in the lead Saturday, but the game is still uncertain. Indiana's exhibition of strength overwhelmed Maryland, and is expected to make things interesting for the Chicagoans.

A rip-roaring main attraction will be provided by the Maroons. The Maroons are expected to be in the lead Saturday, but the game is still uncertain. Indiana's exhibition of strength overwhelmed Maryland, and is expected to make things interesting for the Chicagoans.

TO GET NASTY

The subdues of Ohio State pigs the Marooners to sit down with Minnesota at Minneapolis this week. The game will be interesting to Big Ten roosters for the purpose of comparing the ability of the Maroons with the Wolverines. By the Sentry on His Beat

The Republican State Central Committee, through former Judge Robert M. Clarke, its first vice-chairman, yesterday took cognizance for the first time of the Democratic nominee for United States Senator, William J. Pearson.

In a formal statement Mr. Clarke said:

"After a discussion appearing in Northern California newspapers concerning the question as to whether or not W. J. Pearson the Democratic candidate for United States Senator was a real more-or-less dry candidate for the Senate, the Republican State

Central Committee has caused an investigation to be made as to the facts of an alleged robbery of the residence cellar. In an interview, the candidate has stated that the theft took place in 1918.

"The police records of Los Angeles are as follows:

"January 25, 1918.

"W. J. Pearson, 484 New Hampshire.

"Safe Robbed January 25.

"Safe phone inspector got ac-

"case cold and took

"1 case whisky, 50-year old

Scotch;

"2 or 3 cases wine-champagne.

"The date of the robbery was reported to have occurred was after the adoption of the national prohibition amendment.

"In an interview in a northern newspaper, Mr. Pearson is reported to have said that 'We're or six times on head at the time. It would appear that this is a logical time for Mr. Pearson to come forward and enlighten the electorate to the present condition of his cellar."

The last regular meeting of the Republican Study Club previous to election will be held at the Union

League Club tomorrow.

The meeting will be preceded by a luncheon in the club dining-room at 12:15 o'clock.

Four important speakers are scheduled to address the luncheon:

Judge Robert M. Clarke, vice-chairman of the State Central Committee; Ralph Arnold, chairman of the county central committee; Congressman F. L. Linesberger; and Frank V. Morrison, member of the State Assembly.

The program of the regular meeting will include: a summary of the proposed legislation on the ballot; Mrs. Laura T. McRae, discussion of the measures by members of the club; and brief comments by special speakers on the proposed act, amendment to the initiative, and transportation franchises.

Mrs. Florence Collins Porter,

president of the club, will preside at both meetings.

In view of luncheon accommodations being very limited, members are requested to make their reservations with either Mrs. Ma-garan, telephone 64251, or Republican Headquarters, Pico 5960.

In urging the defeat of the Land

Franchise Act, Proposition No. 29,

E. P. Clark, president of the Peothat opponents of the single tax do not forget to support proposition

No. 27, which calls for an increase from 10 to 15 per cent in the number of signatures on an initiative petition which relates to the assessment or collection of taxes. He declares if the people approve the measure the proponents of the single tax theory will not be able to come before the people at every state election with their proposicratic nominee for Governor, is making inroads in the normal Republicans in Northern California, have discovered that Mr.

Woolwine's "great progress" is largely confined to the columns of Heenan's San Francisco Evening

and Call and Hearst's Los Angeles

Examiner. It is said that Mr. Wo-olwine, having found his wife and best attitude not successful in winning votes as he had anticipated, is now preparing to come out for gasoline. That he is said to be on the verge of "declaring in favor of making gasoline a public utility." Perhaps the wet

Democratic nominee will come forth now, on a stanch platform of "wina and gasoline."
